

Are you a small or medium-scale produce grower? Is training your workers on the food safety requirements of the Produce Safety Rule (PSR) a challenge?

If so, please join us for the FREE virtual workshop to learn more about this training program.

The Food Safety Training Kit – PSR 101 was created as part of an effort by the National Farmers Union to establish a food safety training program to help growers train employees who work at a farm. The PSR 101 program content reviews several training topics required in the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Produce Safety Rule (PSR) and other food safety best practices. These topics are covered in the Food Safety Training Kit – PSR 101, which helps growers and employees understand some of the PSR training requirements through simple, practical language.

Session Summary

✓ We will train the instructors/supervisors who want to teach the program included in the Food Safety Training Kit – PSR 101 on how to use it.
